

Talent Technology Buys Peoplefilter

Thu, Jul 10, 2008

Talent Technology, a provider of recruiting software, has acquired the applicant tracking system PeopleFilter.

“PeopleFilter’s mission of helping companies to source and select the best staff through recruiting software matches well with our own,” said Jade Bourelle, CEO, Talent Technology Corporation, “In addition, the recently launched AmplifyHR product is a great example of solid innovations from PeopleFilter and aligns with our strategic recruiting technology roadmap.”

This is Talent Technology’s fifth acquisition.

PeopleFilter staff will continue to be based in Arlington Heights, Illinois.

This post was written by: Vanessa Dennis - who has written 191 posts on Cheezhead.

Vanessa Dennis, originally from Austin, Texas, was a corporate recruiter for two years before becoming a writer for Cheezhead.com. Vanessa has an English Writing degree from Loyola University of New Orleans. She currently lives with her family in Cleveland.

Email: vanessa@cheezhead.com